Section 5 Corporate Governance and Management

Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On March 27, 2019, James M. McDermid (“Mr. McDermid”), the Company’s Senior Vice President, and Chief Human Resources Officer informed CryoLife, Inc. (“CryoLife” or the “Company”) of his decision to retire on April 1, 2019. Further, on April 1, the Company and Mr. McDermid entered into a Retirement and Release Agreement (the “Agreement”) that is expected to become effective eight days after its execution (the “Effective Date”).

The Agreement acknowledges Mr. McDermid’s retirement, effective April 1, 2019 (the “Retirement Date”). In accordance with the terms of the Agreement, Mr. McDermid will receive the following:

- Payment of $342,864.00, representing one year of base salary, paid in a lump sum after the Effective Date on the first regular pay day following the Effective Date, plus an additional payment of $50,000.00, representing reimbursement for certain transition-related expenses; and
- The benefits that accrue to an employee upon retirement pursuant to the Company’s stock plans, including, without limitation, that his options granted pursuant to applicable option agreements shall remain exercisable to the extent vested as of the Retirement Date, until the earlier of the end of the applicable option term or 36 months from the Retirement Date, and otherwise in accordance with the applicable option agreement.

In return for the benefits described above, Mr. McDermid agreed to release and forever discharge CryoLife and certain related parties, including present and former officers and directors of the Company, from any and all claims and causes of action that Mr. McDermid had or may have in the future that are based on acts or facts arising or occurring prior to the Effective Date. Mr. McDermid also agreed that he would (i) continue to adhere to the Employee Proprietary Information Agreement signed by him on September 6, 2016, as modified, if at all, by the Agreement; (ii) for a twelve month period after the Effective Date, upon reasonable request by the Company, provide the Company with information and assistance for no additional charge for up to six hours per week and (iii) not disparage the Company, its corporate strategy or its management other than as may reasonably be necessary for fair competition. Mr. McDermid further agreed that the Change of Control Agreement by and between Mr. McDermid and CryoLife, dated November 21, 2016, is terminated as of the date of execution of the Agreement and has no further force and effect.

Mr. McDermid has the right to revoke the Agreement at any time on or before April 8, 2019.
